

Friends of the
AMERICAN UNIVERSITY OF AFGHANISTAN

© 2020 Showtime Networks Inc. and Showtime Digital Inc. All rights reserved.

Dear Supporters of the American University of Afghanistan—

First, I send all of you my very best during this most difficult time and hope you and your loved ones are staying well.

We want to make you aware of a documentary produced by Peter Bergen and Diane Becker, The Longest War. The film covers the 40-year war in Afghanistan since the Soviet era and focuses a great deal on the CIA. It is a co-production with the producers/creators of HOMELAND. Peter Bergen filmed parts of it on the campus of the American University of Afghanistan (AUAF). The film tells the story of the Taliban attack on AUAF in 2016 and the resilience of the university today. Two AUAF students who were badly injured in the attack, Breshna Musazai and Mohammad Anil Qasemi, are featured in the documentary. AUAF President David Sedney makes comments in the film as well.

The documentary will air on Showtime at 10:00pm ET on Sunday, April 19th, following the last episode of HOMELAND. See links below for information and trailer.

View Trailer

The Longest War on Showtime

We are deeply grateful to Peter Bergen for his years of support of AUAF. We hope you enjoy learning more about AUAF in this special feature presentation.

Thank you,
Leslie M. Schweitzer
Founder and Chair
Friends of the American University of Afghanistan

Donate Now